ILMP Middle Leaders Course

You now have two opportunities to experience the ILMP Middle Leaders Course in London, 2011/2012.

Summer: July 24th – 27th 2011 or Spring: March 14th – 17th 2012

“A great deal of learning has taken place. I feel much more confident in my role as Middle Leader and feel that I now have a whole new set of tools to carry out my role”

Claire Richmond, ILMP ML 2010

“I have become much more focused on why I do things in school. I have a sense of clarity and vision that is definitely going to impact learning”

ILMP ML participant, July 2009

Recent research highlights the significant contribution that Middle Leaders make to the learning in successful schools.

Three hugely experienced organisations – Fieldwork Education, European Council of International Schools, and the National Association of Headteachers – have been working together to bring a fresh approach to the professional development of all those working in middle leadership positions in international and internationally minded schools.

With the focus on learning-centred, morally driven, sustainable leadership and management practice, the International Leadership and Management Program for Middle Leaders (ILMP ML) provides a highly practical development program that can be applied to any school environment around the world.

Who is this program for?

The International Leadership and Management Program for Middle Leaders is specifically aimed at anyone in a leadership role such as a Coordinator, Head of Department, Team Leader, Subject Leader or Phase Leader.

What format will the program follow?

The four-day program will be a mix of input from the session leaders, personal reflection, group discussions and forward planning. Like everything Fieldwork Education does, each session will be based upon the best and most recent research. The program will be practical, accessible and jargon-free.

How will the program benefit you?

By the end of the program you should be able to:

- Ensure that learning is at the centre of everything that happens in schools
- Contribute to a growing network of international school leaders
- Take responsibility for key areas of school improvement and feel fully accountable for the outcome of these actions
- Feel increasingly confident in your professional relationships with students, staff and board members; even in difficult or confrontational situations

“This was one of the most insightful and impressive CPD events I have attended. I can’t wait to try and put it into practice”

James Thomas, Wellington College (UK), ILMP ML 2011

- Be flexible and have the ability to deputise for senior leaders when the need arises
- Know and promote the principles of distributed leadership
- Build a professional portfolio of leadership and management skills that will enable you to succeed and grow in both current and future roles

How much will the course cost?

The course fee is 995 GBP plus VAT. The fee includes all tuition costs, course materials, lunch, tea and coffee on all four days. The only other costs you will have to pay is your travel and your accommodation.

Where will the courses be held?

The Summer 2011 course will be held at the University of Greenwich, London.
The Spring 2012 course will be held at the Fieldwork Education offices in central London.
