

International Leadership & Management Program

Middle Leadership Program

Benefits

Fieldwork
Education Services

International Leadership & Management Program

Benefits for the students:

By the end of the program, your students will have:

- A teacher who puts learning at the centre of everything that they do in the classroom and around the whole school
- A teacher who knows what it means to be internationally minded and can make learning more interesting
- A teacher who knows a lot more about leadership and management and is able, through a broad understanding and a wide network of colleagues, to bring the curriculum to life in your school/classroom
- A teacher who is confident in using a range of skills that can be applied both inside and outside the classroom
- A teacher who distributes leadership in the classroom, empowering students to take responsibility for their own learning & that of other students

International Leadership & Management Program

Benefits for your school:

By the end of the program, your school will have:

- A teacher/middle leader who puts learning at the centre of everything that happens in school
- A teacher/middle leader who knows what it means to be internationally minded and contributes to a global network of other school leaders
- A teacher/middle leader who is able to access ideas and support from this global network for the benefit of your school
- A teacher/middle leader who can take responsibility for key areas of school improvement
- A teacher/middle leader who is professionally confident in dealing with students, parents, board members and other staff
- A teacher/middle leader who is flexible and can deputise for senior leaders when the need arises
- A teacher/middle leader who knows and promotes the principles of distributed leadership

International Leadership & Management Program

Benefits for the teacher/middle leader :

By the end of the program, you will:

- Ensure that learning is at the centre of everything that happens in school
- Be able to contribute to a growing network of international school leaders and increase your appreciation of what it means to be internationally minded
- Take responsibility for key areas of school improvement and feel fully accountable for the outcome of your actions
- Feel increasingly confident in your professional relationships with students, staff and board members; even in difficult or confrontational situations.
- Be flexible and have the ability to deputise for other senior leaders when the need arises
- Know and promote the principles of distributed leadership
- Build your professional portfolio of leadership and management skills that will enable you to succeed in both your current and future roles